Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Wah Yan,

Thanks to your generosity, a spectrum of education initiatives have been made possible to help forge a diverse and vibrant school life for Wahyanites. To pass on our legacy, the Fundraising Campaign 2022 aims to help realize our vision of nurturing Wahyanites to be Men of Human Excellence and Men for and with Others. The Campaign raises funds to support projects ranging from fostering the whole-person development of Wahyanites to reviving our nostalgic campus for providing an inspiring learning environment.

Time flies. Fledged from the Portland Street campus with an initial enrolment of 24 students back in 1924, Wah Yan College, Kowloon (WYK) has since thrived, glowed and stood tall at 56 Waterloo Road as one of the most respected grant schools in the city for almost a century, nurturing generations of Wahyanites with great minds and warm hearts for the betterment of our shared world.

The year 2022 marks the platinum jubilee of our Waterloo Road campus, and soon in 2024, we will be embracing our first Centenary. While we marvel at our blessed moments, shared heritage, and admirable feats over the century, we shall prepare our fine young gentlemen for the next.

As we transcend the Centenary and beyond, your continued support is essential to help Wahyanites fly higher. Our Campaign will focus on both software and hardware upgrades and sustainable development – upping the ante on the breadth of whole-person education as well as reviving our 70-year-old campus – all dedicated to grooming Wahyanites into Renaissance men with an international outlook to learn and excel, and most importantly, to serve the world at large.

WYK has been blessed with love from our loyal alumni, parents and friends for almost a century. Our Campaign also offers an opportune moment to reconnect with different generations whose hearts and lives have been touched by our education.

We invite you to delve deeper into the vision and rationale behind the Campaign by reading the attached pamphlet or visiting the website of Fr. Kelly Educational Fund Ltd (the Fund).

We look forward to joining hands with you in convoying WYK to transcend the Centenary and beyond!

With gratitude and best wishes,

仁

As in the school name “華仁”;
literally means “benevolence”.

仁風致遠
Inspiration drawn from “仁風廣被” & “任重致遠”;
仁心、德澤以布於民
懷遠大抱負、擔負重任、
闖新前景

Encapsulated in the fundraising taglines is our vision of the campaign. As we journey into the next century and beyond, our future generations aspire to keep serving the greater good with benevolence (as Men for and with Others) and transcend with courage and vision (as Men of Human Excellence) for the betterment of our shared world.

As we make every endeavour to nurture Wahyanites to thrive and shine as Renaissance men with a global vision for and in the 21st century, we see a need to raise funds, in particular, to support whole-person development programmes at home and abroad, as well as facility upgrade for our 70-year-old campus.

Your care and generosity will not only help WYK realise its educational goals and pass on its legacy, but also support all Wahyanites to fly higher and shine brighter, igniting a hope-filled future for our shared world.

INTO THE CENTENARY

Wah Yan College, Kowloon (WYK) will be celebrating its Centenary in 2024.

Fledged from the Portland Street, Nelson Street and Austin Road campuses, even against the headwinds of the Japanese Occupation and post-war era, WYK never shies away but thrives well in challenges. In 1952, our vast and verdant campus opened – and we have ever since stood tall and strong, and remained firm and poised at 56 Waterloo Road.

Over the past century, WYK has been blessed with trust from the city in our Jesuit education. We have lived up to our vision and mission in presenting our graduates as warm-hearted gentlemen embodying the finest intellect and sincere passion for serving the city and the world.

From 56 Waterloo Road, generations of Wahyanites have set off, flown high, and served the world with their competence. Looking ahead, Wahyanites shall aspire to fly higher.

The Platinum Jubilee of the campus in 2022 and the Centenary of WYK in 2024 avail us a unique opportunity to reconnect with different generations – reminisce your days on campus with a nostalgic flavour as we convoy our younger brothers to transcend the Centenary and beyond!
